Panel Session 2

Symposium: Harmonization in the CEAS

Room: M Building

Chair: Blanca Garcés Mascareñas

Harmonization is often used as a catchall phrase in the further development of the CEAS. It shall address the demand for equal results of asylum procedures in different Member States and thus create a system that (supposedly) effectively prevents secondary movements. But is it really that easy? Do Member States and stakeholders speak about the same thing when addressing “harmonization”? And which tools are used and which of them are most effective to reach harmonization? The symposium looks at harmonization as a policy and legal tool from a bird’s eye view, from the perspective of Member States and the perspective of the legal instruments forming the CEAS.

Participants:

Jonas Bornemann

Östen Wahlbeck

Matthias Niedobitek

Martin Wagner

4:00 pm - 5:30 pm

Panel Session 3

Future of CEAS – an exchange between policy and scientific perspective

Room: M Building

Chair: Jeroen Doomernik and Vincenzo Gomes

Most of the CEASEVAL findings feed into a set of scenarios on the future of refugee protection in the European Union. Those scenarios will be presented at this round table, to which stakeholders are invited who in their daily practice are concerned with the reception of asylum seekers and refugees; organizing solidarity; harmonizing policies and practices; and dealing with the consequences of secondary movements (i.e. asylum seekers who travel beyond the country responsible for them under the Dublin-rules). These issues manifest themselves at diverse locations and at varying levels of governance; i.e. from grass roots to the international level. Stakeholders familiar with any of those perspectives are highly welcome to join the exchange and to critically reflect on CEASEVAL's scenarios.

Field Trip (until 6:30 pm): Solidarity in the city

Meeting Point: M-Building

Chair: Simone Gasch, Jana Beinhorn and Hanne Schneider

In recent years, the reception of refugees became a highly politicized topic in Chemnitz and culminated in the 2018 Chemnitz Protests. With this in mind, we want you to discover the conference city Chemnitz from a different perspective. Not with a touristic city walk, instead we will take you to places in Chemnitz where social projects and cultural initiatives bring ideas of solidarity right into the city.

Where: Meeting Point in Front of the M Building

There are limited places for participants. If you are interested in this field trip please sign up at the registration desk at the conference (seats will be provided on a first come – first serve basis).

We will finish the tour in the city center close to the conference dinner restaurant.
